                  Personal space, encouragement from others, making the classroom comfortable, learning with a group of people, with cool lights in the classroom, something that will not make me stressed.
2022-05-05
                  A calm classroom with quiet music or just quietness. Learning in a group of 2-3 people.

                  More teachers/adult in the classrooms because sometimes a lot of people crowd around the teacher and it gets too loud. Also, it would be nice to get to choose your own groups for projects because I feel more comfortable via the classrooms because sometimes a lot of people crowd around the teacher and it gets too loud. In school I need more time for my work.

In school I need pencils and other stuff so I can write more and do better in class.

Clear and understandable teaching

Hands on activities or group projects

Group activities so I can interact with more people?

Help form friends, teachers.

More time spent with teachers

Giving more time to study

More art subjects

I like group works, more gym or sports and field trips are really fun. Right now I'm doing drama which I really enjoy but I don't really get to do the main things sometimes.

More independent projects. I like to have a lesson, and then independently learn more on my own. Obviously a balance would be nice between group and individual.

Supportive teachers and work that looks/is interesting to look at or more hands on activities also more group projects since I find it hard to focus if I'm by myself

More of the students choosing what they do during school. So they can focus on what they like and are good at doing. More variety of subjects would also help.

I think I work the best in a clean, and comfortable room where I can hear my own thoughts and also share thoughts with my peers.
